REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

4. Claims 1-11 are allowed.

The following is an examiner’s statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, the prior art of the record fails to show or fairly suggest a stereoscopic photographing lens unit comprising means for providing the information to the recording medium that is to be reproduced on the display and that is needed to properly display and view the stereoscopic image produced by said stereoscopic photographing lens unit by transmitting the information of the photographing optical system that is needed to properly display and view the stereoscopic image produced by said stereoscopic photographing lens unit, to the recording medium in the camera main unit for recordation on the recording medium together with the picture signals in such a manner so as to permit reading out and display of the information with the picture signals from the recording medium during reproduction of the picture signals, wherein the information transmitted to the recording medium by said providing means comprises at least one of:

first information regarding a focal length of the photographing optical system;

second information regarding the interval between the incident optical axes of the first photographing optical axis and the second photographing optical axis; and third information regarding the angle formed by the incident optical axes of the first photographing optical axis and the second photographing optical axis to the camera main unit in the form of digital values.

Claims 2-4, 9 are allowable for the reason given in claim 1.

Regarding claim 5, the prior art of the record fails to show or fairly suggest a stereoscopic photographing apparatus, comprising means for providing the information to the recording means that is to be reproduced on the display and that is needed to properly display and view a stereoscopic image produced by said stereoscopic photographing apparatus comprising said recording means for recording the information of said photographing optical system that is needed to proper display and view the stereoscopic image produced by said stereoscopic photographing apparatus, wherein the information which includes information regarding whether the odd/even field of an input picture signal corresponds to the picture signal for left eye or right eye, wherein said recording means records the information regarding whether the odd/even field of an input picture signal corresponds to the picture signal for left eye or right eye to the recording means in the form of digital values, together with picture signals representing an image formed by said stereoscopic photographic apparatus or picture signals representing an image formed by said stereoscopic photographic apparatus and speech signals in such a manner to permit reading out of the information with the picture signals or the picture signals and the speech signals from the recording means to the display during reproduction of the picture signals.

Claims 6, 10 are allowable for the reason given in claim 5.

Regarding claim 7, the prior art of the record fails to show or fairly suggest a photographing system, comprising means for providing the information to the recording medium that is to be reproduced on the display and that is needed to properly display and view the stereoscopic image produced by said photographing system, wherein the information comprises information regarding whether the odd/even field of an input picture signal corresponds to a picture signal for a left eye or a right eye representing an image produced by the optical system of the right-eye or the left-eye photographing apparatuses, wherein said providing means comprises recording means for recording on the recording medium the information regarding whether the odd/even field of an input picture signal corresponds to a picture signal for a left eye or a right eye in the form of digital values, together with picture signals representing images produced by the optical system of the right-eye or the left-eye photographing apparatuses or picture signals representing an image produced by the optical system of the right-eye or the left-eye photographing apparatuses and speech signals in such a manner as to permit reading out of the information with the picture signals or the picture signals and the speech signals from the recording medium to the display during reproduction of the picture signals.

Claims 8, 11 are allowable for the reason given in claim 7.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
